Daily Technical Trend - NIFTY

Daily Chart (22,959.50)

Technical Observations

- In Monday's session, Nifty decisively rebounded from both the previous week's and previous month's lows, indicating a potential trend reversal. The Index formed a bullish candlestick pattern with a small lower shadow on the daily charts after touching the lower Bollinger Band.
- However, it continued its lower high-lower low structure. The index remained below all key moving averages (10, 20, 50, 100, and 200-day EMAs), reflecting a bearish undertone. Momentum indicators also signal weakness, with the RSI at 39 and the MACD displaying a negative crossover below the zero line.
- It appears that 23230 is performing as a significant resistance level for the Nifty. On the higher side, though, 23011/23040/23135 levels will act as a resistance area for the NIFTY. If we look at the lower side, support is located at 22762/22733/22638 and 22543 levels.

Daily Technical Trend - BANKNIFTY

Daily Chart (49,258.90)

Technical Observations

- The Bank Nifty climbed 159.45 points, or 0.32%, to settle at 49,258.90. The Bank Nifty formed a bullish candlestick pattern with a lower shadow on the daily charts, indicating buying interest at lower levels.
- However, it remained within the lower band of the Bollinger Bands and below all key moving averages, maintaining its lower high-lower low structure, which signals continued weakness. Traders should consider a buy-on-dips strategy while monitoring for sustained strength above resistance to confirm the continuation of a bullish trend.
- In terms of levels, resistance is anticipated at 49431/49525 levels. Should a breakout occur at 49828, it could signify additional buying interest, potentially leading to the 50131 level. Crucial support for the index is expected at 48638/48544/48241 and 47938 levels.
