Major Events of the Week

- Japan: The S&P Global Japan Manufacturing PMI was confirmed at 54.5 in May 2026, indicating continued expansion in factory activity. Production was supported by stockpiling amid supply disruptions from the West Asia conflict, while rising material costs pushed input inflation to its highest level since September 2022 and selling prices to their fastest increase since October 2022.
- China: The RatingDog China Manufacturing PMI eased to 51.8 in May 2026 from an over five-year high of 52.2 in April. Growth for new orders and output moderated, supported by domestic demand, and product upgrades, while export orders dipped slightly. Costs remained elevated due to raw materials, energy and supply disruptions.
- India: IIP in India expanded by 4.9% from the previous year in April 2026. It reflected robustness in the Indian goods producing sectors despite ongoing pressure from surging energy prices and lack of stability in the rupee, which have dented the purchasing power domestically.
- Japan: The S&P Global UK Composite PMI fell to 49.7 in May of 2026, firmly below the initial market expectations. New business at the aggregate level eased amid weaker sentiment. A sharper decline was prevented by an influx of orders for manufacturers as clients attempted to beat price hikes risked by the war in the Middle East.
- USA: ISM Manufacturing PMI rose to 54 in May 2026, marking the strongest factory sector expansion since May 2022, driven by robust growth in new orders, production, and backlogs. Meanwhile, the Services PMI increased to 54.5, while input cost pressures intensified to their highest level since August 2022, led by rising energy and commodity prices.
- India: RBI kept its key repo rate unchanged at 5.25% and maintained a neutral stance amid a weakening rupee. The conflict in the Middle East threatened GDP growth and fuelled inflationary pressures. Also, RBI lowered its GDP growth forecast for FY2026/27 to 6.6% from 6.9%. Meanwhile, inflation is projected to average 5.1%, mainly driven by higher LPG, base metal, plastic, and rubber prices.
